To Whom It May Concern,

Kirk & Blum worked on a ventilation improvement project for us earlier this year. I was the project manager for this capital project. They completed their portion of the project on time, within our budget and above all safely. Due to the hazardous nature of the material involved, Arch had certain safety and material of construction requirements that needed to be met. Kirk & Blum had no issues following the safety procedures and design requirements we specified. The new Farr Gold series dust collector is a welcome improvement over our old baghouse from both a maintenance and safety/exposure standpoint.

It was a pleasure working with Joe Fertitta and Danny Witcher as well as the other Kirk & Blum personnel. They were able to work around our production and scheduling needs. Joe would visit the job site regularly to make sure everything was on schedule and address any concerns. Danny was a very competent and conscientious foreman.

I can confidently recommend Kirk & Blum for their expertise and performance as a solid and reliable vendor in their field.

Regards,
